Petitioner.

Respondent.

In the matter of :- Reference under section 10 of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Award

1. Vide SRO-14 dated 20th January, 2003, the Government of Jammu and Kashmir, on being satisfied over the existence of an industrial dispute between the parties, in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (C) of sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), has referred the dispute to this tribunal for adjudication in respect of the following matters :-

- (a) Legality or otherwise of the action of the management of M/s Manu Mohit Industries, Dhiani, Samba, in terminating the services of its employee, Shri Sukhwant Singh, Foreman ; and
- (b) Award appropriate relief to the said employee in case the illegality of the action of the management of the said industry is established.

2. On notice both the parties filed their respective claims.

3. The petitioner has pleaded that his services were terminated arbitrarily, wrongfully and illegally on 27-04-2002 and his date of appointment is 11-10-1993.

4. That he was working as a foreman and drawing Rs. 4200/- per month at the time of his illegal termination from service.

5. That juniors to him still continue to be in service.

6. That the management never gave him any casual leave, earned leave, medical leave or other holidays throughout his service period.

7. That the management never issued him any notice for any fault on his part and failed to adopt procedure as laid down in law.

8. That the workman approached the management, number of times, but the management refused to take him back.

9. That, left with no alternative, the workman approached the Asstt. Labour Commissioner, Jammu for his re-instatement, but of no avail.

10. And finally prayed that the petitioner requested to get the workman re-instated at his old job, with full back wages and continuity of service with all other consequential benefits.

11. The respondent filed objections on 09-06-2003 averring therein—

- (i) That conduct of an employee is of paramount consideration for an employer for the retention of an employee on the job. It is submitted that the employer herein had lost confidence in the employee for his grave acts of misconduct, indiscipline, deliberate financial loss, mishandling of costly machinery by applicant in as much as due to deliberate acts of applicant, the respondent had suffered a financial loss of nearly three lacs because wooden screws manufactured by workman had to be dumped in waste being below the standard norms and inferior product could not be sold in the market ;
- (ii) That in the entire body of claim petition, the applicant workman is projecting his case in manner that it is only the workman who is granted protection under labour laws and the employer has to watch every excess, every act of indiscipline, misconduct etc. of an employee as a silent spectator. It is necessary to submit that on an earlier occasion the services of applicant were terminated but due to intervention of Labour Deptt. authorities, he was retained on the job but due to continued acts of misconduct committed by applicant, the respondent was constrained to terminate the services of the applicant because no private entrepreneur can afford to bear immense loss due acts of a particular individual. The applicant claims himself to be union leader and as such was creating chaotic conditions, using abusive language indulging other co-workers to abstain from work, forced the employer to take this extreme step. The claim petition as such is not maintainable and deserves outright dismissal.

- (iii) That every employee has to act with a sense of discipline and decorum and since both the essential elements were lacking the services of applicant had to be dispensed with.
- (iv) Since the retention of applicant had become dangerous to the working of unit, the services of applicant were dispensed with because no employer can be forced to retain an employee the conduct of whom is harmful to the employer.
- (v) So far as it relates to the factum of alleged illegal termination. The applicant is himself responsible for causing loss to the employer to the extent of nearly rupees three lacs due to deliberate mishandling of costly machinery, producing inferior products beside creating sense of indiscipline, chaotic conditions in the working of unit and loss of confidence.
- (vi) Whatever leave or other holidays are permissible under rules were allowed to applicant while he was in service.
- (vii) Termination order itself depicts reasons with regard to loss of confidence, creating chaotic conditions, indiscipline and loss to employer as also other acts mentioned therein are sufficient to cause termination of applicant. Prayer is made for rejection of the claim of the petitioner.

12. Rejoinder was filed to statement of claim of the workman wherein the contents of the written statement were generally denied and the contents of the claim were reiterated.

13. The points of reference were treated as the issues and the parties were directed to lead evidence in support of their pleadings.

14. The evidence of the petitioner was closed on 04-04-2005 and thereafter respondent was directed to lead the evidence. After availing numerous opportunities to lead the evidence, only one witness namely Ram Murti was recorded on 22-10-2007 besides the proprietor.

15. Thereafter respondent remained absent and on his continuance absence from the proceedings, ex parte proceedings were initiated and ex parte award was passed on 13-10-2008.

16. The ex parte award was set asided on 04-07-2011 and was kept for the evidence of the respondent. Since 21-07-2011 till 17-02-2014 none of the witnesses was produced by the respondent. At the request of the Ld. Counsel for the respondent, the evidence of the respondent was closed and file was kept for arguments.

17. Heard arguments and gone through the file. My issue-wise findings are under :-

Issue No. 1 :-

The evidence lead by the petitioner has proved that the petitioner was employed with the respondent as a Foreman (Mechanic) for the preparation of new wooden screw etc. He was getting Rs. 3500/- P. M. The petitioner was terminated in 2002. There was a strike in the factory and during the negotiation between the management and the workers union it was agreed that the demands of the workers will be settled and in this regard a SRO will be issued. Since the petitioner was the Vice-President of the union and despite the call off of the strike he was not allowed to join his duty. At the time of his termination, no notice was given to him nor any inquiry was conducted. It is further stated by the evidence that the plant/unit of the respondent failed due to old machinery.

18. The evidence lead by the respondent has stated that the petitioner was engaged as foreman but not a workman, for looking after the machine of screw. Petitioner was provided training for the manufacturing of the screws. Without seeking any instructions of the management, petitioner tried to modify the machines of the factory and due to his mishandling the machines were stopped and become non-functional. The petitioner used to come in the factory after taking liquor and under the influence of the liquor he used to quarrel with other workers of the factory. Even the owner of the factory and his father were abused and misbehaved by him. The petitioner was issued notice through registered envelop notice but the petitioner did not received the same.

19. The employment of the petitioner has been admitted by the respondent but as a foreman and not a workman. So the question comes whether the petitioner is a workman. Before proceeding further let us go through the definition of a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act.

Section 2 (s) defines a "Workman" as—

Any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any manual, unskilled, technical, operational, clerical or supervisory work for hire or reward, whether the terms of employment be expressed or implied, and for the purpose of any proceeding under this Act in relation to an industrial dispute, includes any such person who has been dismissed, discharged or retrenched in connection with, or as a consequence of, that dispute, or whose dismissal, discharge or retrenchment has led to that dispute, but does not include any such person—

- (i) who is subject to the Air Force Act, 1950 (45 of 1950), or the Army Act, 1950 (46 of 1950), or the Navy Act, 1957 (62 of 1957); or
- (ii) who is employed in the police service or as an officer or other employee of a prison ; or
- (iii) who is employed mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity ; or

- (iv) who, being employed in a supervisory capacity, draws wages exceeding one thousand six hundred rupees per mensem or exercises, either by nature of duties attached to the office or by reason of the powers vested in him, functions mainly of a managerial nature.

20. From the perusal of the above said provisions of section 2 (S) Clause III and IV, it is crystal clear that the provisions of I. D. Act are applicable to the workman and not the persons who are being employed as on a managerial or administrative capacity and the persons who are getting wages exceeding Rs. 1600/- (One thousand six hundred) per mensem.

21. In the present case the petitioner is a foreman who is skilled person and was working himself in the factory as per the evidence oral as well as documentary on record no doubt the petitioner was getting wages more than the ceiling amount of Rs. 1600/- per mensem but the salary of the employee is not the only criteria for determining the status of a workman but the nature of work performed by the workman is to be kept in mind. I place my reliance on a judgement published as 2001 LRR 378. Since the petitioner was not working in a managerial capacity, so he does fall within the definition of workman in view of section 2 clause S.

22. Now the question arises, whether the petitioner has been terminated in accordance with the labour laws and common laws. In this regards the petitioner has alleged that no notice or any enquiry was conducted by the respondent while terminating the services of the petitioner. It is admitted by the respondent that there was a strike in the factory and the petitioner was the instrument. It is also pleaded by the respondent that the petitioner was a drunkard and used to misbehave with the workers and the respondent including his father also. So far as the misconduct and drunkardness of the petitioner is concerned, there is nothing on record which could prove that any police report was lodged with the concerned agency. The petitioner may be an arrogant person and indiscipline person and was a liability for the respondent but still he should be terminated and ousted as per the procedure laid down. In this regard the evidence lead by the respondent is not sufficient to construe that any inquiry was conducted against the petitioner. The respondent has not provided any compensation to the petitioner before his termination. It is imperative for the petitioner to prove the conduct of the petitioner and the release of compensation along with other benefits to the petitioner while terminating him. Perusal of the record reveals that one registered envelop along with an AD form was issued to the petitioner and there is an endorsement made by the petitioner as "Gair Qanooni Notice" it means that the petitioner was fully aware of the proceedings and the notice issued to him. The petitioner has himself refused to accept the notice of the respondent, so the question of non-issuance of notice to the petitioner does not arise. There is a notification/SRO-220 dated 04-07-2003 which reads that "the strike shall be called off and the work in the factory be resumed w. e. f. 17-06-2002 and the workers shall be paid one month wages in advance. Two retrenched workers shall not be taken back till the conciliation process is complete. The management was held liable for the breach of settlement between the parties and a recommendation was made for the prosecution of the management.

24. No doubt the management has a tool to oust to the worker but before that, provisions of section 25-F of I. D. Act are to be complied with. There is nothing on record to prove that petitioner was given any compensation while terminating him. It is for the respondent to prove that the petitioner was terminated after complying the statutory provisions under the labour laws. No documentary proof has been lead by the respondent for granting or releasing the compensation to the petitioner. In brief the petitioner was terminated during his service without adopting due course of law. It has also come in the oral as well the documentary evidence that there was a strike in the respondent factory w. e. f. 18-04-2002 to 15-06-2002. It appears that the petitioner has been terminated because of mala fide intention and with ulterior motive.

25. In 2003 LLR 136 Hon'ble Allahabad High Court in a case titled, BCM Ltd. V/s. State of UP and Ors.—

"U. P. Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Section 2 (s) and 6N, Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Section 25-F, Retrenchment, striking off the name of the workman from the rolls constitutes retrenchment conditions precedent for a valid termination as contemplated by section 6N or 25-F of Central Act not complied with Labour Court, rightly held that termination of service amounted to illegal retrenchment was not gainfully employed-Awarded full back wages.”

26. It is well settled law that the onus of proof lies upon the person who assert the existence of any fact. As stated above, the management has not lead any evidence to prove that the enquiry was conducted.

27. In a case M/s Nicks (India) Tools Vs. Ram Surat and Anr. (Supra), Hon'ble Supreme Court has, inter alia, held as under :-

“Since the respondent workman was in the service of the appellant management.....the burden of proving that he voluntarily left the services then falls on appellant management.”

28. In another case of Shri Shiv Kumar Vs. Hansita, Hon'ble High Court has held as under :-

“It is a settled position that the abandonment of service cannot be readily inferred. Abandonment of service is a question of intention which can be gathered from the totality of the facts and circumstances of each case. There has to be a clear evidence on record to show that despite grant of reasonable opportunity to the employee by the management, he failed to join back his duties without any sufficient reasons and therefore in the absence of any such cogent and convincing evidence, voluntarily abandonment on the part of the employee cannot be readily inferred.....”

29. Coming to the present matter, undisputedly it is admitted fact that the workman was employee of the management. Hence, in the light of above judgment the burden to prove that the workman left the service voluntarily lie upon the management.

30. Considering the entire facts and circumstances, it is found that the management has failed to bring on record any cogent or consistent verbal or documentary evidence to prove that the workman has abandoned his service voluntarily.

31. Before proceedings ahead here it is necessary to reproduce the relevant provision of Section 25-F of Industrial Dispute Act, which are as under :-

Section 25-F. Condition precedent to retrenchment of workman.
No workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service of not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until –

- (a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice.
- (b) the workman has been paid, at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to fifteen days' average pay (for every completed year of continuous service) or any part thereof in excess of six months.

32. From bare perusal of section 25-F, it is found that the workman who has completed 240 days in the year preceding his termination cannot be retrenched without giving one month notice and notice pay etc.

33. The reliance is also placed on case Ramesh Kumar Vs. State of Haryana, 2010 (1) LLJ 821 SC, wherein, Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that once the workman has completed 240 days the workman cannot be terminated without notice.

34. In view of the above discussions it is held that the termination of the services of the petitioner by the respondent was illegal and deserves to be set aside. Accordingly the termination of the petitioner is set aside. This issue is decided in favour of the petitioner and against the respondent.

Issue No. 2 :

35. Since the termination of the petitioner has been proved illegal on the part of the management. The second question comes for consideration to what extent the petitioner is entitled to the relief.

36. Though in the ordinary cases, Labour Courts do awards reinstatement of the petitioners, however, the recent trend of the superior courts has been towards for compensation instead of reinstatement. Reliance is placed on 2009 LLR 1 SC, U. P. State Electricity Board Vs. Laxmi Kant Gupta, 2009 871 SC, Narendra Kumar Vs. The Regional Manager, Punjab National Bank and Ors., 2009 LLR 966 SC Jagbir Singh Vs. Haryana State Agriculture Marketing Board and Anr., 2008 LLR 555 SC Gaziabad Development Authority and Anr. Vs. Ashok Kumar and Anr. and 2009 LLR 1281 SC Ashok Kumar Shrama Vs. Oberoi Flight Services. It was held that reinstatement is an exception and normally that court must give a lump-sum amount towards compensation instead of a reinstatement.

37. In the present matter, admittedly, the termination of the workman amounts to illegal termination. Once it is held that the termination was illegal, the workman was entitled for legal benefits.

38. In the present matter the management is a private concern and has been closed, therefore it would not be appropriate to make order for reinstatement and lump-sum compensation may be paid to the workman. The workman has not proved about his unemployment from the date of his termination. It was for the petitioner to prove that he has remained unemployed.

39. Considering the entire facts and circumstances of the case and to meet the ends of the justice, it would be appropriate to award lump-sum compensation of Rs. 1,00,000.- (Rs. One Lac only) in lieu of reinstatement and back wages to the workman. Hence, management is directed to pay lump-sum compensation of Rs. 1,00,000/- to the workman.

40. The reference is answered accordingly and be sent to the appropriate Government for further necessary action. File to go to records under rules.

Announced in open Court on 11-07-2014.

Accordingly, Deputy Commissioner, Kathua was requested to get the revenue papers prepared along with the field book and Shajra Khasra. The revenue papers were prepared by the revenue officials. Further, Deputy Commissioner, Kathua provided all the revenue papers required to this Collectorate vide their office Letter No. DCK/LA/2012-2013/1062-63 dated 21-12-2011. The papers were then got authenticated from the Project Manager (T), Jammu and were found in order.

Thereafter the notification under section 4 (1) of the Land Acquisition Act, Smvt. 1990 was issued by the Collector, LA, ERA, Jammu vide office Letter No. CLA/ERA/J/12/626-36 dated 28-03-2012, whereunder the above mentioned khasra number of the Village Chak Sheikan was notified for the information of all the concerned that the land measuring 6Kanal 11¾ Marlas is needed for the public purpose namely the widening and strengthening of the Kathua Kalibari Hatlimore Road and objections, if any, were called on from the interested persons with regards to the acquisition of the said land within fifteen days from the date of the notification issued in the newspaper. The notification was got published in the two leading local English newspapers namely State Times dated April 16, 2012 and News Point dated April 18, 2012 through Joint Director, Information and was also published in the Government Gazette through General Manager, Ranbir Government Press, Jammu. Besides, a copy of the notification was also served upon the concerned land owners/interested persons through Tehsildar, Kathua to state the nature of their respective claims/interest in the land and the amount and particulars of their claims due to them for compensation for such interest in land. No objections were filed by any land owner/interested person with the office of the Collector Land Acquisition, ERA, Jammu within fifteen days from the date of the publication of the said notification.

After the expiry of the stipulated time for furnishing of the objections from the date of the notification under section 4(1), the case was submitted to the Office of the Deputy Commissioner (District Collector), Kathua for the issuance of declaration/notification under sections 6 and 7 of the Land Acquisition Act, Smvt. 1990 vide this office Letter No. CLA/ERA/J/12/675-79 dated 22-05-2012. Subsequently vide notification No. 08 DCK of 2012 under the endorsement number DCK/LA/2012-2013/229-34 dated 28-05-2012, declaration stands issued under sections 6 and 7 of the Land Acquisition Act, Smvt. 1990 by the District Collector (Deputy Commissioner), Kathua.

Consequently notice under sections 9 and 9A of the Land Acquisition Act and Rules was issued vide this office number CLA/ERA/J/12/697-700 dated 12-06-2012 and was published in two leading local English newspapers namely Kashmir Times dated June 18, 2012 and Early Times dated June 16, 2012 inviting objections of land owner/interested persons and indenting department to state the nature of their respective claims with regard to measurement of land and rate of compensation either personally or through their authorized agent within statutory period of fifteen days from the date of publication of this notification.

No any objections have been received either from the land owner/ persons interested or indenting department under sections 9 and 9(A). Tehsildar, Kathua vide his office Letter No. OQ/73 dated 26-04- 2012 conveyed to this Collectorate through the Deputy Commissioner, Kathua (vide Letter No DCK/LA/2012-2013/134 dated 02-05-2012) submitted the average sale/purchase rates for the last three years of the Village Chak Sheikan @ Rs. 1,14,210.00 (One lac fourteen thousand two hundred and ten only) per kanal and the prevailing market rates of Rs. 10,00,000.00 (Ten lacs only) per kanal.

Therefore, keeping in view the above narrated facts and the potential of the land, the undersigned is of the opinion that uniform rate of Rs. 600,000.00 (Six lacs) per kanal seems genuine in the instant case, further also the Rate Determination Committee of the Collectors, Kathua which met on 21-08-2012 at DC Office, Kathua after taking into consideration the merits/vicinity of the land that falls in Village Chaksheikan under the municipal council limitation, a uniform rate of Rs. 600,000.00 (Six lacs only) per kanal was approved by the Deputy Commissioner, Kathua in the said case and was further communicated to this Collectorate vide their office Letter No. DCK/LA/2012-13/467 dated 23-08-2012 as the acquisition of land is compulsory Jabrana @ 15% is also admissible on the land compensation amount which has been taken into account during the preparation of the apportionment statement in terms of the section 23 of State Land Acquisition Act and Rules, the total award amount comes to Rs 45,45,375/- (Rupees forty five lacs forty five thousand three hundred and seventy five only).

Necessary apportionment statement depicting the cost of the land along with the Jabrana @ 15% is shown as Annexure 'A'.

As per the standing instructions of the State Government to the Revenue Department issued from time to time it stands certified :

- (1) That the land is acquired for the widening and the strengthening of the Kathua Kalibari Hatli More road at Village Chaksheikan, Tehsil and District Kathua.
- (2) That the funds are reportedly available with the indenting department.
- (3) That the proposed land for the acquisition has neither been acquired by the indenting department through private negotiation nor any payment of land compensation has been made to the land owners/persons interested in the land.
- (4) That no land acquisition proceeding are going on with any other Collectorate on this account.
- (5) That the payment shall be made strictly in accordance with the provision of the J&K Agrarian Reforms Act, 1976 and the instructions issued from time to time.

Therefore, I, Rajneesh Gupta, KAS, Collector, Land Acquisition, ERA, Jammu in exercise of the powers conferred upon me under section 11 of the J&K State Land Acquisition Act, Smvt. 1990 hereby make the final award in the subject case for an amount of Rs. 45,45,375/- (Rupees forty five lacs forty five thousand three hundred and seventy five only) on the account of land compensation including the 15% Jabrana on the aggregate of the land compensation for the land acquired.
